

Would you be happy to leave your car this way?

We all need to protect the valuable information we work with everyday on our PCs, laptops desks, printers and faxes.

Remember, compliance is everyone's business.

We all appreciate a little privacy at times...

We all work with sensitive data which we need to protect, whether it is electronic or printed. Otherwise we can all end up embarrassed.

Remember, compliance is everyone's business.

Compliance.

Should be as intuitive as locking your car.

Or the loo door...

We want to help your staff be engaged, not vacant.

Strategic Systems Solutions is a global IT and BPO consultancy and outsourcing company; delivering consulting, development, testing, 24/7 support, back-office and compliance services.

We have long-term partnerships with some of the world's largest banks; working to exacting governance, risk and compliance standards within strict frameworks of data and information security.

We deliver risk mitigation and enhanced security without sacrificing productivity; so compliance can become second nature, like locking your car.
